

Mountain men return

THOSE men from the High Country, the Mountain Cattlemen, are coming to town again.

Many Melburnians will have noticed the famous "Mountain Cattlemen Care for the High Country" slogan.

It appears on bumper stickers on many cars.

Now you can meet some members of this hardy breed at the Royal Melbourne Show.

They will be taking turns to man a souvenir shop.

The cattlemen will dispense free bumper stickers to each group that calls in.

But you must promise to stick them on your car and support the Mountain Cattlemen who are a proud part of Victoria's living heritage.

The mountain men and their friends will also be selling windcheaters, T-shirts, singlets, books, posters, and stubby holders.

They will also be only too happy to enlighten you on the Victorian High Country.

They will also discuss the Alpine grazing industry.
