High plains drifter

● THE Honourable Member for Mountain Cattlemen, Graeme Stoney, is right into his whole image as a modern day Clancy of the Overflow.

After riding round the high country with a herd of rebel mountain cattlemen, and rescuing the odd national parks officer and their bogged vehicles, even his staff at his Mansfield office are in on the act.

They've plastered the electorate office window with a modified version of the famous line from the old Banjo Paterson work.
