Head em Up - n - Move em Out

A significant protest in Victoria has been started in the Snowy High Country yesterday by families who were evicted from the Snowy removing 170 years of Australian heritage by the Bracks Government under pressure from the ever radical Greens threat to withdraw their support at the 2006 Victorian election.

[IMAGE]

[IMAGE] Driving several small mobs of cattle across the Alpine National Park, these families are supported by Rural Lobby group, Country Voice and we believe the Mountain Cattlemen's Association of Victoria although we have not heard from them to confirm this which is amazing considering SOS was setup to support the Snowy Farmers.

"We have been meeting and planning with the cattlemen leaders since June 2005 and have accompanied them on trips to reconnoiter the route of this heritage cattle drive - and we are assisting them with logistic support along their route", said Country Voice chairman, Bob Richardson.

"TWITer" [an assesment made by his private school chums], Mr Thwaites, the Victorian minister for environment, who will face the polls in 2006 being credited as a major engineers for this Radical Green planned demise of the heritage high country farmers, should take a look at his tiny network of pathetic Green volunteers scattered around bogs in various location on the Snowy who told an SOS investigator "they were repairing the cattle damage of many years". This was more than our PI could stand without laughing as these bogs and many others along with watering areas he had filmed - including the recent annual cattle move on which he accompanied Janet (Hoppy) Webb and her family - showed NO SIGN of cattle damage from that herd two weeks ago. What a sham TWITer, but it fits well with the suspect photo published 12 months ago (which SOS has on file) of cattle damaging a bog - which has been proven to be FORGED - was used to support yet another radical Green scare tactic to maintain that solid grip on frightened polties and mislead the public.

Let us all get behind these families persecuted by the Victorian dictatorship who rushed through the legislation drafted by their Green mentors to remove the livelihood of these people and extinguishing the flame of our national heritage "The Man and Family from Snowy River".

[IMAGE]

It would not only be Banjo Patterson, Henry Lawson and those Australian's who fought such tyranny to sustain our national heritage to now see their valiant effort eroded by minority radicals and gutless government protecting their well heeled appointments - but those of us who can see through their "fear mongering tactics" - the tool wielded to control and maintain political survival - which will be terminated by the people and then to return our stolen free thinking Australia back to the people.

[IMAGE]

It has been stated by Phil Davis, Victorian Shadow Minister for Agriculture, "It is quite clear that the Liberal Party, the Opposition have committed to returning cattle to the alpine park following the next election". SOS will ask Mr Doyle, the Victorian Liberal Party leader, to confirm this in writing. But fear not, there are alternatives to oppositions at election time if push comes to shove.
